JANESVILLE SATURDAY, APRIL 5.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR.

In conformity with law, I, William D. Hoard, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do designate

Wednesday, April 30th Next, as Arbor Day, and recommend that all public schools and colleges of the state observe the same by suitable exercises, "having for their object the imparting of knowledge of horticulture, in the department known as arboriculture, and the advancement of schools and public grounds."

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the city of Madison, this 15th day of March, A. D. 1890.

WILLIAM D. HOARD.
By the Governor: EUGENE G. TRICE, Secretary of State.

AN ENFORCEMENT OF HOARD.

One of the richest New York merchants, a man whose commercial power and sterling integrity are felt in the business circles of Europe and America, said to a Wisconsin man the other day, "You have a great man for governor out in Wisconsin. When I hear of a man in a high place boldly telling the world that he is reading and willing to stand or fall for a principle, then I like him. I admire him, and would like to vote for such a man. I believe in your Bennett law because it is just what this country needs. We need to Americanize America, to train the young, no matter of what nationality they belong, so that they will become intelligent American citizens, and will stand by our American institutions."

This great leader of business men, who is not a partisan, but a courageous defender of our public schools, looks with special interest and deep anxiety on the issue in Wisconsin. He says that Americans everywhere, those who desire to see broad intelligence in the manhood of the coming generations, are hoping that the heart and conscience of this state will overcome all the powers of evil that are rising up against the educational law of the state.

Judging from the voice of the press in other states, the better class of papers will lend their hearty support to Governor Hoard in this great issue. They honor him for the moral courage he has displayed in standing alone against heated republicans and trimming politicians, willing to battle without them for the honor of the state and the benefit of those who need the protection of the law in the effort to secure that education which will fit them for decent American citizenship.

TAMMANY AND THE EX-PRESIDENT.

Among the sad things that have happened this year is a disagreement between the New York muggwumps and Mr. Cleveland in regard to Tammany. It is truly pitiable to see a strong muggwump paper taking issue with the democratic ex-president on any question, for it is counted as impossible for a New York muggwump to disagree with his very peculiar creation—Grover Cleveland. But the time has come when even the muggwumps and Cleveland fall out on the question of the integrity of Tammany, and the opinions of both are interesting.

There does not exist in all the political world, a corrupter organization than Tammany. Its history is the history of political corruption. Its deeds of villainy have never been matched by any other political organization of which the world has any knowledge. The Tweed ring was supported by Tammany. The millions on millions which that ring stole from the people, was divided among the Tammany leaders, and Tammany had endorsed the deeds of plunder. The present thievery in the sheriff's office is but a part of the plunder that is going on in the various departments of the city government of New York.

With all the appalling crimes in bold type before him, Mr. Cleveland wrote an endorsement for Tammany last year in these strange words:

All encroachments of selfish interest and the stealthy advance of every corrupting influence must be met and exposed if our people are to enjoy the highest benefits of a representative government. In this endeavor the Tammany society, with its traditions of 100 years, with its memories of distinguished and illustrious membership, and with its time-honored and beneficent principles, will continue to be a powerful instrumentality. By its influence to the purpose of its establishment it will still continue to shield the people from error and misrepresentation, to champion the cause of the weak who are right against the strong who are wrong, and to strongly aid in making the true spirit of American institutions.

This is the Cleveland opinion of Tammany. The New York papers are better in their denunciations of that distinguished society, especially the muggwump papers, and the Post says:

What is peculiar about it here is that the decent, industrious, tax-paying portion of the community does not unite against it, keep a watch on it, denounce it, expose it, prosecute it, and drive it out of office, and allow no business or excuse to stand in the way of its extinction. On the contrary, every now and then we see alliances with it, and even apologize for it, on the part of men calling themselves "patriotic Americans."

Then the Herald comes out with the following endorsement on the villainy which is so bold and daring in the sheriff's office, and which is in the hands of Tammany:

Thorough as have been the Herald's disclosures of certain phases of the corruption and irregularity in the sheriff's office, the full story of the evils that prevail there is far from told. The Herald has shined the surface of the foul pool but there are depths of iniquity yet to be sounded.

It is a mystery to many why Mr. Cleveland should have written that endorsement of Tammany—a gang of political workers whose rottenness and crimes have started two continents. But Mr. Cleveland wants the support of Tammany and without such an endorsement he can not secure it. Tammany robs the city and county of New York, and regardless of the cost Mr. Cleveland wants to ride on Tammany wagon.

CONSTITUTIONAL "TWADDLE."

In the discussion of the proposed methods to prevent the organization of trusts, and to limit the power of monopolies, those who have no feeling for the people, and who usually take sides against them, bring out the constitution as a bar to such legislation as seeks to protect the people from the iron-heel of these powerful combinations. The constitution is a venerable instrument, has done splendid service, and is entitled to great respect, but there are many who are using it to the detriment of the people. Here is a paragraph which contains much that is worthy of careful thought:

"The people would regard it as a good thing if the constitution, instead of being worshipped like a Chinese Joss, should be stretched occasionally by the senate in the interest of the people till they could hear it crack. Mr. Lincoln, in order to preserve the nation, ripped that venerable instrument down the back and across the middle in his first call for troops. The nation now needs salvation from many growing evils and gross abuses of great monopolies and giant combinations. There are senators who, at every attempt to interpolate law to protect the people, plead constitutional obligations and restrictions. The country is pretty tired of this form of discussion, not because it does not reverence the constitution, but because it does not believe it stands in the way of any reform legislation which the needs of the country demand."

So that in the legislation against trusts and monopolies, combinations that are a positive harm to the people as well as to the business interests of the country, the constitution should not stand in the way of justice.

Murat Halstead has been relieved of the editorship of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, which is a good thing for the Commercial Gazette and the republicans of Ohio. The loss of Ohio last fall is attributed mainly to Halstead. He is a reckless, dare-devil sort of a fellow in journalism, caring neither for common justice nor the rights of those who do not happen to agree with him. He has made it his special business to slander every republican leader from Lincoln down to the present, and the country may well rejoice that he is now robbed of his power to do harm. It is stated on good authority that since the Ohio campaign of last fall, the Commercial Gazette has lost thousands of subscribers and is losing money rapidly. To take the editorial pen away from Halstead, was the only salvation for the paper.

The Iowa representatives in congress, including the senators, think that the prohibition law will stand in that state. In an interview all expressed the opinion that the law would not be repealed or modified. In their interviews they very generally expressed the opinion that the law had been beneficial, and that the decrease in crime and the consequent lessening of expense for criminal and eleemosynary institutions was largely due to the prohibitory law. The prohibition sentiment, a majority of them thought, was as strong as ever, and several of the gentlemen ascribed the result of the last election to the railroad question more than to anything else.

No one can fail to understand the meaning of these beautiful lines from the Albany, New York Journal: "No murderer, no thief, no incendiary in the history of this state ever did so much injury to society at large and the cause of good government as did David B. Hill last evening when he vetoed the Saxton ballot-reform bill."

There is an effort being made in New York city to banish the Chinese laundries from that place. It is said that last year their aggregate receipts were $3,500,000, and that 91 per cent of the net income was sent to China. So far the opposition has not met with encouraging success.

A gentle reminder from the Chicago Tribune: At the late state election in Wisconsin with the repeal of the Bennett law as an issue the democracy of that commonwealth will be the worst wrecked party ever seen on this earth since the days of the flood.

The crisis in the history of the republican party in this state, will come next fall. There is no doubt as to the result. It will be a big party on the day after the election.

The senate has another anti-trust bill before it, and it is public sentiment keeps on pelting away at the trust abomination, the bill will have to pass.

The czar of Russia is in constant fear that some one will kill him. This is not strange. All tyrants have the same feeling.

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what it does for Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. ## TROUBLES OF THE CZAR.

Plots Discovered to Blow Up the Czar and Wreck the Imperial Train.

FISTIC ENCOUNTER BETWEEN ROYAL BROTHERS.

How in a Palace Which Resulted in Two Pairs of Black Eyes—Other Foreign News.

DRESDEN, April 5.—Court circles are enjoying a scandal in the little principality of Schwarzburg-Sondershausen. Prince Leopold, brother of the reigning sovereign, Prince Charles, has removed all his possessions from the palace, where he has been living for years, and taken lodgings at a hotel. Hitherto, the two Princes, who are both Prussian Generals, respectively 64 and 58 years old, have been great chums, their intimacy even going so far as to include keeping a small harem on equal shares in the matter of expenses.

Prince Charles, although married, is childless, and Prince Leopold, being a bachelor, recently decided, for state reasons, he had better marry. Two or three Sundays ago the two Princes talked matters over while at supper in the Casino Club, Sondershausen. Leopold demanded that in case of his marriage his allowance, $5,000 per annum, should be increased. The elder Prince did not take kindly to the proposition, and said if Leopold could not afford to support a Princess as his wife he should try to marry a rich Jewess. This offended Prince Leopold, and he left the club abruptly and was on the way home to the castle when he was overtaken by Prince Charles, who sneeringly repeated his advice. Prince Leopold turned viciously on his brother and hit him in the face. A fistic battle ensued between the brothers. The sentries who were pacing the road to the castle did not dare interfere, but some officers arrived, who by shielding the reigning Prince with their bodies succeeded in lulling the storm. Everybody retired to bed, and in the morning both Princes had black eyes and remained invisible.

ALEXANDER'S ROCKY ROAD.

Plots to Blow Up the Czar and Wreck the Imperial Train.

St. PETERSBURG, April 5.—The police at Gatchina have discovered explosives on the grounds of the imperial palace. The imperial family has, in consequence, renounced the idea of going there to finish lent. The Czar for two days has suffered a relapse of the influenza, which has compelled him to postpone audiences. His condition is not serious.

The Czar has also abandoned his proposed hunting trip in Poland on account of a plot to throw the imperial train off the track. This was discovered by the fact that a decoy train, supposed to contain the Czar and his suite, was wrecked by rocks placed on the rails.

The scheme for the Russification of Finland is received with much disfavor in that country, and trouble is certain to follow. The students of the St. Petersburg university made an attack upon Lieutenant Gortchakov, chief of the St. Petersburg police, who went to the university to quell the disturbance, and treated him in a very rough manner. He was thrown to the floor, and while lying prostrate was kicked a number of times by his assailants.

A Disturbed Condition of Affairs.

LONDON, April 6.—Advices received here to-day from St. Petersburg reaffirm the reports of the serious condition of affairs in Russia. They declare that the Czar is suffering from nervous fever. The scheme for the Russification of Finland is received with extreme dissatisfaction in that country, and trouble is certain to follow. The students of the St. Petersburg university made an attack upon Lieutenant Gortchakov, chief of the St. Petersburg police, who went to the university to quell the disturbance, and treated him in a very rough manner. He was thrown to the floor, and while lying prostrate was kicked a number of times by his assailants.

The Sultan Wants Egypt.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 5.—The Sultan has signed an order providing for new negotiations with England for a convention based on the withdrawal of the English from Egypt. It is stated that Lord Salisbury, the British prime minister, and Rustem Pasha, the Turkish ambassador at London, will immediately commence negotiations having that object in view.

To Stop Dueling.

BERLIN, April 5.—In accordance with the views expressed by the Emperor recently a cabinet order has just been issued forbidding dueling in the army except in cases where a council of men of honor, to which all the circumstances shall have been referred, shall declare that a duel is necessary.

No Reinforcements Needed in Dahomey. PARIS, April 5.—In an interview to-day M. Etienne, minister to the colonies, said that the French forces in Dahomey were sufficiently strong to cope with their adversaries, and that no reinforcements were necessary. The French troops, he said, would shortly make an attack on Whydah, the coast town of Dahomey, where the Dahomians obtain their arms.

Stanley's Reception at Brussels.

BRUSSELS, April 5.—The royal palace and the town hall are being prepared for the reception to be given to Henry M. Stanley upon his arrival here on April 20. He will remain in this city for five days. He will go from here to England.

Heavy Forgeries of Bonds.

LONDON, April 5.—A gang of forgers of Spanish and Italian bonds have been caught at Trieste. The forgeries amount to 25,000,000 francs. It is stated that many well-known men of London and Paris helped to dispose of the bonds.

China's Emperor Moves to State.

PEKING, April 5.—The Emperor, accompanied by Li Hung Chang, the Chinese Grand Chancellor, and a retinue numbering 10,000 persons, has started on a visit to the eastern Mausolea. He will return to Peking April 10.

Churchill Writes Another Letter.

LONDON, April 5.—Lord Randolph Churchill, in a second letter, ridicules the proposition that the Land Purchase bill is a tranquilizing and pacifying measure.

Plotted to Ruin the Freighter.

MARSHALL, Ill., April 5.—The charges of gross immorality recently preferred by Mrs. Ollie Cole, a domestic in the family of B. B. Blanchard, of Christiana, Edgar county, against Rev. C. F. Wilson, of this city, were investigated by the Presbytery at Christiana yesterday and the result was the acquittal of Mr. Wilson. Mrs. Cole and her employer, Mrs. Blanchard, finally admitted that the charges were untrue.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Notable Features in the Trade of the Country During the Last Week.

New York, April 5.—Bradstreet's "State of Trade," published to-day, says: "Special telegrams corroborate previously reported indications that while the volume of general trade is heavy there has been a distinct check to the movement of staples to retailers' hands as compared with the distribution some months ago. Overflows along the lower Mississippi valley have checked trade at New Orleans, and even at St. Louis similar influences have been felt. At New York, while the quarter's total of bank clearings is 4 per cent larger than in 1889, for March the total this year is 2-1/3 per cent less than in March, 1889.

The bank clearings at thirty-six cities for March aggregated $4,532,514,831, a gain over a year ago of 15 per cent. For the first quarter of 1890 the gain is 58 per cent over the first quarter of 1889. The only assignable cause for the existing depression in the iron and steel market in the face of extraordinary consumption and prospects for still heavier consumption, is found in the fact that a productive capacity has been developed in every department to an extraordinary degree. The increase in the production of crude iron within the past six months amounts to but little less than 50,000 tons per week.

Wheat has not varied in price much, tending upward toward the close. Reduced stocks abroad and crop damage at home are stimulating features. Exports have declined visibly, notably from the Pacific coast. The total shipped this week, both coasts (including flour and wheat), is 1,521,806 bushels against 2,401,156 bushels the week before. From July 1 last to date the exports equal 11,214,673 bushels, against 99,040,124 bushels in the like portion of 1889-90. Drives in spring dress goods are leading features of the eastern dry goods jobbing trade. A considerable amount of business has been effected at cut rates. Trade with agents is only moderate.

Reports of failures throughout the United States during the first quarter of the current year show a total of 3,326, against 2,569 in the first quarter of 1889. The aggregate liabilities of failing traders are $33,814,301, against $41,761,509, and actual assets $16,082,212, against $30,376,798 in the first quarter of 1889.

THE GRANGERS HEARD FROM.

Among Other Things Appropriations for Irrigation Are Denounced.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 5.—At the meeting of the Kent county grange held in Dover yesterday resolutions were adopted declaring that since there is already an overproduction of certain agricultural products the grangers protest against congressional appropriations for irrigation of western lands; denouncing adulteration of food products; favoring exclusive government control of railroads, telegraphs, insurance business, and banking; favoring national legislation against trusts, combinations, and monopolies; and recommending a rebate of 30 per cent of import duties on foreign cargoes when exchanged for an equal value of American agricultural products.

FIVE MEN BURIED ALIVE.

Explosion in a Tunnel in California Causes the Death of Several Persons.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., April 5.—A terrible accident occurred at Adams Canyon, near Santa Paula, yesterday, causing the death of six men. A tunnel was being bored for oil when an explosion of gas occurred and a sheet of flame shot out blowing away the building one hundred feet from the mouth of the tunnel. Two men were badly hurt, one of whom has since died. A force of men was put to work to clear out the tunnel and another explosion took place, the sides of the tunnel collapsing and burying in the ruins five men, who are certainly dead. The names of those known are Britton, Hardison, Taylor, and Young.
